Nudists On Trail Escape Police Trap

Elude Deputy Sheriffs And Local Officers After Parading On Mt. Wilson

The city "Where Nothing Happens," as Lee Shippey describes "Ourville," his home town of Sierra Madre, was basking blithely in the soft sunshine of the late day, when the police telephone buzzed in the City Hall.

"Police Department," answered Officer James Heasley.

"Hello, hello," called a voice. "This is the manager of the Mt. Wilson hotel. Say, the nudists are swarming over the hills. We chased them away and they have gone down the Mt. Wilson trail toward Sierra Madre."

"What do you mean—nudists?" asked Heasley. "Are you sure? Didn't they wear shorts?"

"Not at all," exclaimed the manager. "Only birthday clothes, as bare as the minute they were born."

Heasley summoned Chief McMillan and they rushed to the end of the trail. "Lizzie," proprietress of the Trail Inn, was engaged in preparing a dish of her famous raviolis.

"Have you seen any nudists around here?" the officers asked.

"Say," said "Lizzie," "when I see something I don't want to see I don't look."

"Have any nudists come down the trail?" persisted the Chief.

"Not yet. This morning I am looking out and I see five people. You could hide what they have on under a two-cent stamp, and am I mad? I give 'em a look and they run up the trail. What are we coming to, I ask? First we have backless women and now we have frontless men."

The police camped at the end of the trail, but in vain. A few hikers, all properly clothed, came down, but no nudists.

When the Mt. Wilson hotel manager got his first glimpse of the nudists he phoned the Sheriff's office at Altadena. A group of his deputies hurried up the toll road, but the nudists had vanished before they reached the hotel. They advised the hotel manager to phone the Sierra Madre police.

"They probably were wise after being chased above and slipped through some other canyon," said Chief McMillan. "The Sheriff's office reports they did not come down the other trail. They had better not come back."

Incidentally the police plan to check up on the hill hikers. Reports have been received of some costumes, worn by both men and women, a little too scanty.

Legion Cops Game Marked By 14 Errors

Local Soldiers Guilty Of Six Wobbles But Azusans Chalk Up Eight

The error column in the box score of Friday's game between the Sierra Madre and Azusa Legion teams looks as though the game might appropriately have been called a "comedy of errors." The hometown Sojers were guilty of six wobbles, but their opponents were not to be outdone and went in for two more. Clark, second basemen of the visitors, was the star fumbler of the evening, managing to chalk up three. Sierra Madre was able, with the assistance of Azusa's eight errors, to score 16 runs on 16 hits. With the aid of errors by the hometowners the veterans from the banks of the San Gabriel scored seven runs on six hits. The story of the seemingly endless round of misplays is too long and weird, beyond the announcement that Gwyn and Pratt led with the stick for the hometowners, Gwyn managed to hit twice out of his four times at bat, being forced out of the game in the seventh with an injury to his (Continued on Page Five)

Freedom Of Speech Made Forum Topic

Lengthy Discussion Follows Addresses By Eminent Speakers

"Freedom of speech and the press," was the topic at this week's Sierra Madre Forum meeting, addresses by E. W. Camp and other well-known speakers being followed by an animated discussion by members of the audience.

Referring to John Beardsley as a valued friend with whom he had served during many years on committees of the Bar Association, Mr. Camp presented him as speaking for the Civil Liberties Union, a national organization.

Mr. Beardsley stated that the position taken by his organization, that freedom of assembly was a constitutional right, and that police interference was justified only after law violation in a public meeting, had been sustained in cases carried to the United States Supreme Court. He endorsed the statements of eminent jurists that the best answer to unsound communist arguments was sound arguments for democracy.

Urging his hearers to read the report of the Federal Board on Imperial Valley labor disputes, Mr. Beardsley said that prejudice was often created in labor difficulties by charges of communist agitation and quoted Brig. Gen. Glassford's statement, defining deliberate creation of a "Communist hysteria by a group of growers seeking cheap labor."

R. F. Sparks, chairman of the Board of the Friends of the American Constitution, spoke briefly for this organization, as carrying on adult education in constitutional history and processes, in the interest of reconstruction and recovery.

Many questions were asked the speakers and a general discussion that followed the addresses lasted until the Forum adjourned for two weeks, to meet July 10th in the School Auditorium, when Harold Carew will give a review of Current Affairs and present Judge Ben Lindsay as speaker of the evening.

Old Age Pension Meeting Planned To Explain System

The Townsend plan of Old Age revolving pensions will be explained to an audience of Sierra Madreans at a public meeting in the City Hall here tomorrow evening at 7:30 by Dr. Dick and John B. Dundore, of Pasadena, district director of the movement. Petitions urging adoption of the plan have been in circulation here for more than a week and contain the names of 800 citizens.

The Townsend plan aims to end unemployment and restore buying power throughout the country by pensioning of all persons over the age of 60 years, requiring them to give up all employment in favor of younger persons and to spend the monthly pension of $200 within the month in which it is paid; the money to be paid out in pensions would be raised by a sales tax.

There will be an all-day picnic of friends and advocates of the plan in Brookside Park, Pasadena, tomorrow.

Builder Pays Fine For Failure To Get City License Here

A. F. Picknell, of 1625 South Burnside avenue, Los Angeles, electrical contractor, was haled before City Judge Thomas W. Neale on Monday, charged by the city building inspector with violating a city ordinance by working on a local contract without having taken out a Sierra Madre license. Judge Neale imposed a fine, as notice to other contractors that local regulations must be respected.

Man Badly Hurt As His Car Sideswipes A Sierra Madreen

Amos C. Bullock, of Pasadena, received more than a dozen deep gashes and his skull was fractured on Monday, when his car sideswiped the machine of Charles Namur, of 41 West Mira Monte avenue, and crashed into a tree in the 3500 block on East Foot-hill boulevard.

Doctors at the Emergency Hospital described the star-shaped cuts as the worst in their experience and 38 stitches were needed to close the wounds. Dr. Robert Cunningham worked ceaselessly with a surgical needle for more than an hour.

Mr. Bullock retained consciousness but was suffering from brain concussion and could not remember anything of the accident. He was taken to the Los Angeles General Hospital. Complications might cause death, doctors said.

Mr. Namur was not injured and his car was only slightly damaged.

Tournament Brings Chess Fans Galore

Morphy Day Festival Starts Movement For Instruction Of Local Players

To those who consider chess a dull and archaic game, the fifth annual Morphy Day Chess Carnival in the Sierra Madre city park Saturday should have proved a salutary event. From thirty-five Southern California cities, as far distant as Santa Paula, Riverside, Laguna and Redlands, came 200 registered chess players and more than that many spectators, to participate in the full day of festivity.

Most spectacular of the events to the laymen spectators, and surely most interesting to the chess enthusiasts who are steeped in the historical traditions of the game, was the reproduction of the famed Philidor Defense played by the late Paul Morphy against Charles, Duke of Brunswick in consultation with Count Isouard de Vauvenargue. This contest, so brilliantly won by Morphy, was reproduced with living chessman on huge chalked squares on the lawn.

The game was conducted by Herman Steiner, chess editor of the Los Angeles Times. He prefaced the play with a lecture touching on the life of Paul Morphy, in whose honor the annual carnivals here are held. Several of the children costumed to represent the chess pieces and pawns were from Sierra Madre. Norma Hogan was a Queen, while Don Miller and Stanton Irvine were knights; the pawns included small girls of the Sierra Madre Children's Dramatic Guild, Betty Lou Lacy, Mary Lou Lovejoy, Margaret Adwell, Julia Rossi, Patsy Moeller, Elspeth Jackson, Doris Pickett, Jean Noshier, Betty Suinks, Dorothy Dean, Idella Taylor, Geraldine Lloyd, Marian Carleton, Marjorie Griffith and Bennie Griffith.

Commencing in the park at 1 o'clock, and ending at the Masonic Temple about midnight there was continuous activity for the most inveterate players during the carnival day. Casual games were in session in every corner of the park—scheduled and otherwise. And for bored wives there were even bridge tables, as heretical as that may seem.

The rapid transit elimination tournament, most strenuous test of nimble wit, attracted 87 entries. With only 10 seconds allowed for every move, the field was rapidly thinned until the last round brought together State Champion Harry Borochoy and Herman Steiner, International Chess Master, who won on the thirty-fifth move.

Bailey Canyon Not To Become Jungle Again, Council Says

A plea by the City Planning Commission that something be done to prevent Bailey Canyon Park from "reverting to the jungle" it was a few years ago brought assurance from the City Council this week that it would try and find a way to keep the weeds under control, repair the roads and trails that were somewhat washed out by the winter rains and keep the park in such condition that it may be enjoyed as a park and as a place for picknicking parties.

The Flag

By MARY WARD

We behold our banner's silken folds
Of stripes of red and white,
And visualize our armored hordes
Who bravely fought for right.

Now in this interlude of peace,
With cannons all at rest,
Triumphantly there waves aloft
Our flag forever blest.

This glorious emblem ever shall
Proclaim our free estate,
Its azure field begemmed with stars . . .
A star for every state.

Written for Independence Day.
Sierra Madre, Calif., July 3, '34

WHAT THE FLAG OF THIS NATION STANDS FOR AND HOW IS SHOULD BE TREATED

By Minnie Stinman
Press Chairman, American Legion Auxiliary

WITH Independence Day so near, it behooves us to brush up on our knowledge of flag etiquette. It is easy to remember that the flag must never be allowed to trail in the dust, that it should be hoisted briskly, and lowered slowly and ceremoniously, that it should be flown from sunrise to sunset. Also, that when carried in procession, the flag of the United States of America should be on the marching right, or in front of the center of the line of flags, if other flags are carried. But it is when we would display the flag in our own homes that most of us wish for a Flag Code to guide us. The Flag Code was established by the National Flag Conference, called by the American Legion, June 14, 1923.

When the flag is flown from a staff, with flags of States, cities or societies, the flag of our country occupies the position of honor always, being at the center or highest point of a group. If displayed against a wall with crossed staffs, the flag should be on the flag's own right, i.e., the observer's left, and the staff in front of that of the other flag.

If the flags of two or more nations are displayed, they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of the same size. (Continued on Page Three)

Install New Officers Of Womans Club

Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, retiring president of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, installed new officers for the coming year on Wednesday at the closing meeting of the year.

Mrs. Victor O. Schmidt, newly elected first vice-president, was handed the gavel of the club, until a new president is elected by the executive board. Mrs. Frank H. Bryan will be second vice-president for the coming year; Mrs. Marion L. Hays, recording secretary; Mrs. W. C. Dalzell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clarence Sandage, treasurer, and Mrs. J. C. James, auditor.

New members of the executive board are Mrs. R. L. Webster, Mrs. D. C. Ashmore, Miss Regina Gority and Mrs. Milton Hollingsworth.

A delightful tea party followed in the club garden, closing the activities for the year.

Improved Garbage Collection Comes When Council Acts

Have you noticed an improvement in the garbage collections during the past week? There's a reason. Robert Watson, bondsman for the former contractor, has taken over the job. Notified by the City Council that the contractor's work was highly unsatisfactory and that the city was aroused over the matter, Watson was given the alternative of taking over the contract or making good the amount of the bond. He chose the former procedure and the substitution was formally sanctioned at Wednesday's meeting of the Council when City Business Manager Myers notified that body the number of complaints about bad service had been almost nil this week.

Legion Gets A New Five Year Lease On City Hall "Dugout"

The City Hall basement will be the headquarters of American Legion Post 29 for another five-year period. The City Council renewed its lease to the local post on Wednesday night when informed by Post Commander Roy Shetler that the lease made five years ago would expire on July 1. The Legion pays a nominal rental fee of $1 a year for its "dugout."

New Plan For Election Of Judges Urged

Woman Attorney Says Proposal Would Ultimately Be Big Saving In Taxes

"Our judges will be taken out of politics by the action of Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 98, which will appear on the ballot this fall," said Attorney Rosalind Goodrich Bates, who was the speaker at the Kiwanis Club's Tuesday luncheon. William Middough, president, introduced the Los Angeles woman attorney who is the secretary of the State Bar Committee on the Constitutional Amendment. C. G. Hunt, singer was in charge of the program.

"We have allowed our judges to become part of the entertained class," stated Attorney Bates. "Under our present political setup it is necessary for them to spend over one-fourth of their time making radio talks, addressing luncheon clubs, attending barbecues and picnics, and dissipating their strength in the entertainment of the public."

"In Los Angeles we have had an increase of 83 per cent on our bench in the last six years. Even now during the last three months civil cases have increased 11 per cent, with 732 more filings than in the previous year. Our courts cost us $26,000 per judge. At the present rate of increase we will need 122 judges in 1937 at an additional cost to us of a million and a half dollars a year."

"We must concentrate upon a method to allow our judges to do their work instead of spending their time in political campaigns," added the speaker.

Two Schools Plan Games For Kiddies

County Pays Supervisors And PTA Supplies Equipment For Recreation

Plans for summer recreation schools to attract the children of Sierra Madre were completed this week when it was announced that the athletic grounds of the Grammar School will be opened under the direction of six supervisors next Monday, July 2. Recreation activities have been under way at St. Rita's for several days, with two supervisors in charge. There will be exercises, games and amusements from 10 to 4 o'clock daily.

Los Angeles county will supply the wages of the supervisors, but City Manager Al Myers will handle the time cards, and it is hoped that all the supervisors will be recruited from Sierra Madre residents.

"I think we will be able to find enough to qualify at home," he said yesterday, after interviewing a number of volunteers. The actual playground program at the Grammar school will be directed by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of the school. C. J. Hammond began supervision at St. Rita's on Tuesday.

While the funds to take care of the supervisors is contributed by the county the P. T. A. has set aside $100 to furnish necessary equipment. Mrs. D. Vanderpool, chairman of recreation for the Parent-Teachers' Association, says that plans for folk dancing and story reading are under way.

The daily programs include tennis, baseball, volley ball, hand ball, and for children seeking other activities there will be ping pong, croquet, model airplane and ship building, and sewing.

Heighten Danger From Fires As Plug Caps Are Removed

The Sierra Madre water department has appealed to residents for information that might lead to the arrest of the person or persons, who have been removing the brass caps from fire hydrants. Fifteen or more caps have been discovered missing in the past week. The caps are not only expensive to replace but their absence would prove very detrimental, should a fire break out in a section of town, where one was missing. Removing the caps endangers the threads, which the caps protect, making it difficult or impossible to make a hose connection in case of fire, and they have practically no value if sold for the brass.

Will Rename Central Ave. As It Opens

County Planners Join With Local Bodies To Give Boulevard Proper Title

Impetus will be given the movement to change the name of Central avenue to Sierra Madre avenue at a joint meeting soon of the Sierra Madre City Council and the City Planning Commission, to which members of the Regional Planning Commission and members of the county-wide committee authorized by it, to eliminate the confusion arising from a duplication of street names in various and nearby communities.

Now that the extension of Central avenue into Pasadena is nearing completion and will soon be thrown open to the public, the planning commissions believe this is the proper time to bring about the change. It is reasoned that motorists will not know their ultimate destination if the Pasadena end of the new boulevard is labeled "Central Avenue," whereas they would know exactly where the road would take them if the thoroughfare was designated as Sierra Madre avenue and other names were given the streets now called Sierra Madre in Pasadena, Glendora and several other towns.

The plan is not only to have the present Central avenue in Sierra Madre beginning within the Arcadia city limits and the new extension now being built through the Hastings ranch and into Pasadena, known as Sierra Madre avenue, but North Huntington Drive as well. That portion of Huntington Drive within San Marino is already officially dedicated as Sierra Madre avenue.

Work on the Central avenue extension was given a spurt this week when orders were received to rush work on the section between Sierra Madre avenue and Sierra Madre Villa. Only a quarter mile at the West end remains to be finished, and this will be graded and probably oiled by Saturday.

For a week or more the Eastern end of the extension was open to cars. The last quarter mile was all "fill," and the engineers decided that it would be a good idea to enlist traffic in stamping it down before the final grading. Hundreds of cars rolled over it and helped considerably. On Wednesday traffic was shut off and the crew of men started the final grading.

Politics To Sizzle Here This Summer

City In Midst Of Hot Fights For Supervisor, Legislation And Other Posts

With 15 candidates in the field for supervisor in the First Supervisorial district, of which Sierra Madre is a part, 30 candidates for the seven places on the Democratic county committee from the 48th Assembly district, half a dozen candidates for each of the two justices of the peace in Pasadena township, to say nothing of the interest local citizens are manifesting in Assembly and gubernatorial contests, this city promises to be sizzling politically during the warm spell between now and the primary election of August 28.

Six of the 30 candidates for the Democratic county committee are Sierra Madreans, representing various gubernatorial candidates and political elements. They include Mrs. Grace B. Caukin, Alan Thompson, George E. Hapgood, John H. Robertson, John Osgood, Jr., and Mrs. Agnes B. Tye.

There is no opposition to the seven candidates for the Republican central committee, for which Councilman Lester K. Layton, of this city, is a candidate to succeed himself. The other candidates are Frank P. Woods, N. Jay V. V. Green, William Hoban, Earl Vogel and Roger M. Bone, of Altadena and Pasadena, and Broo Freeman, of La Canada. Mr. Layton's petition was signed exclusively by Sierra Madreans.

The signers to Mr. Layton's petition were Al S. Myers, Raymond J. Burby, Samuel L. Graham, Joseph T. Swanson, Mrs. Cecily A. Allen, Marion Lee Hays, Robert F. Babbitt, Walter S. Andrews, Mrs. Hattie Lovell, Mrs. Maude S. Rikeman, Mrs. Harriet A. Buckingham, Mrs. Norma M. Mesecar, Wilbur S. Hull, Lawrence R. Goshorn, Harry L. Woodruff, Joseph F. Sadler, Robert C. Copenhaver, Allen N. Adams, Roy H. Pickett, Miss Louise Judson, J. Milton Steinberger, Wallace R. Nohneck, William Lee Hibbs, William H. Schwartz, Milton Hollingsworth, Tom Tyler, Clarence G. Hunt-singer, Henry M. Olsen, Collin F. Hill, William R. Lees.

Reservations lie latent in the mind concerning some unhalloved sentiments or habits in the present, some possibly impending temptations in the future; and thus do we cheat ourselves of inward and outward joys together. #### APPOINTEE JUDGES

Intended to curb crime, and to speed up the administration of justice, four initiative measures will appear on the November ballot. These measures were drawn up by a group of California organizations interested in better administration of the law, the organizations including the Committee of Administration of Justice of the California Bar Association, Commonwealth Club of California, California Federation of Women's Clubs, California League of Women Voters, the San Jose Committee, Judges and Civic Officials. In preparing the program the California State Chamber of Commerce has acted as the coordinating body for these groups.

The first proposal, intended to remove judges from the necessity of political activity, is the subject of much controversy. It would make the offices of justices of the Supreme Court and of the District Court of Appeals appointive. Appointments would be made by the Governor, subject to approval of a commission on qualifications composed of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, presiding justice of the District Court of Appeals, and the Attorney General. Judges at present in office would continue to fill out their terms, at the conclusion of which their names will appear on the ballot without opposition; and this process is repeated at the conclusion of each term. This plan can also be applied to the Superior Court judges of each county on the vote of the people of that county. The second proposal makes the Attorney General the chief law officer, having jurisdiction over sheriffs and district attorneys. He is given the power to enforce the law in any county where, in his opinion or that of the Governor, the law is not being properly administered.

To prevent criminals from escaping conviction, a third proposal would permit the judge to enlighten the jury as to the significance of the evidence, assisting them to arrive at a proper understanding of the case. The judge or counsel would also be permitted to comment on the fact that the defendant in a criminal case refused to explain or deny any evidence or facts brought against him.

The fourth measure would permit the defendant in a felony case to plead as to his guilt when brought before a committing magistrate, instead of waiting until he is brought before the Superior Court, as at present. The present procedure sometimes involves a delay of two months before a plea can be entered. This amendment will not apply where the offense is punishable by death, or where the defendant is represented by counsel.

THE ONLY SAFEGUARD

The freedom of the press is the sole hope of freedom for the people. A dictatorship cannot endure a free press, for with one it cannot maintain itself continuously. A dictatorship — be it Communist, Fascist, or Nazi — always puts the press under its heel. Then the people know nothing because they can hear only what the dictator chooses to let them. A free press is the sole guarantee of a free democracy — San Francisco Chronicle.

GRATEFUL FOR HELP IN TRAIL IMPROVEMENT

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:
Just a word of commendation for your timely and effective publicity, in the columns of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS, regarding the condition of our mountain trails. I am pleased to announce that the Mt. Wilson trail is now in a splendid condition and thoroughly cleaned off, thanks to your and the local organizations kind efforts in the hikers' behalf. I have received many favorable remarks from the veterans organizations who have cabins along this trail who especially requested me to extend thanks to yourself and Al Myers of Sierra Madre for the efficient management of the work done on the Mt. Wilson trail.

NEWS READER URGES PARENTS TO "WAKE UP"

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:
I have read and seen in your paper at different times of the unruly boys at our ball games at entertainments of the Parent-Teacher's Association and other organizations. A letter from the P. T. A. in The Sierra Madre News says that organization is almost discouraged on account of disorder of these boys or "hoodlums" stealing candy etc., that they had on sale to raise money to help carry on its good work. I wonder if they know that this kind of theft has been going on for some time all over the city, mostly by high school boys. The ladies along with the Legion asked for police protection. Parents, fathers and mothers, wake up, know where your boys are and whose company they are in. Likewise your daughter! I say wake up and take more interest in your offspring. You have the right to know where they are and what they are doing. Come in and see me, I will tell you a few things that are going on in the way of petty theft. As a result of thefts of which I have been a victim I have decided it is necessary to send an officer after some of our youths.

Chess Tournament Brings Hundreds To Sierra Madre

Angeles, former champion of Ohio, played two games simultaneously, winning both. His opponents were likewise blindfolded. E. P. Elliott, in a noteworthy simultaneous exhibition, defeated 17 opponents at the same time. The Riverside Chess Club tied in its match with the Alhambra club, while the ladies' club of Pasadena defeated a similar aggregation from Los Angeles, 4 matches to 2.

Although the only local players to play in the simultaneous events were M. A. Woodward, Moe Rosen and B. S. Stinman, there were a number of visitors with family connections or other close ties that made them feel at home. Mrs. Louise Tag, of Manhattan Beach, sister of F. W. Schall, played on the Pasadena team, and won her game; B. M. Hungerford, of Riverside, and Robert P. Dow, of Laguna Beach, both played for the Riverside Club.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cooke, visitors from Los Angeles, were residents of Sierra Madre some 46 years ago. Mr. Cooke recalled the days when he played chess with the late Mrs. Osgood and with the father of James N. Hawks. Rev. M. D. Kneeland, of Claremont, guest of Vanniers, is an uncle of the Rev. Mr. Kneeland who was rector of the local Episcopal Church several years ago.

At the opening of the festivities, Lindsay H. Heath introduced John S. Billheimer, local Chamber of Commerce head, and told of the splendid cooperation afforded both by the Chamber and the City of Sierra Madre. Mrs. Florence Eakman spoke a few words of appreciation to the members of her children's guild for their help. Much credit was given to the carnival committee, which this year included L. H. Heath, chairman; C. W. Forman, James N. Hawks, A. V. Taylor, and S. W. Sullinger. Ladies of the Eastern Star served the evening dinner at the Masonic Temple.

M. A. Woodward was the only player, who succeeded in holding Herman Steiner down to an end game in the rapid transit tournament, both parties having two pieces and some pawns. Mr. Steiner won from all the other players by superior combination in the middle of the game. Mr. Woodward has been one of the 12 men selected for the championship ship game each year since 1914 with San Francisco, played at San Luis Obispo. He has been invited to participate again this year.

Announcement it made by C. W. Forman, who is the founder of the chess club here, that if sufficient interest is shown a chess instructor will be stationed at the Park House every Saturday beginning July 7th to instruct both children and adults in the game. Those who wish to receive such free instruction are requested to give their names to Mrs. Eakman or to the office of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS. It is stated that a good set of pieces may be purchased cheaply, and that a chess board may easily be home-made, so there would be little expense involved.

In A Social Way

A CHARMING luncheon was given in honor of Miss Pearl Neagle, of San Francisco, by Mr. and Mrs. William Lauren Rhoades, at their home, 529 West Highland avenue, on Thursday. Novel old-fashioned nosegays were used for place cards. The luncheon table was attractively decorated with rose and lavender sweet peas. Kenos, for which prizes were given, furnished diversion for the afternoon. Guests included Mrs. J. W. Jameson, Miss Ruth West, Mrs. W. T. McKee, Misses Jean and Hazel Woodward, Mrs. M. D. Welscher, Miss Thosella H. Graham and the guest of honor.

An afternoon wedding united in marriage Miss Dorothy Rananahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rananahan, North Auburn avenue, and Bernard Reins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Reins, of Pasadena. The ceremony was solemnized on Sunday in St. Elizabeth's rectory, with Rev. Michael O'Connor officiating.

The bride was gowned in a white semi-formal crepe dress and white turban and carried white carnations, sweet peas and roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Rosemary Rananahan, who also wore white crepe and carried sweet peas and carnations. Raymond Vanderhaar served the groom as bestman.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reins left for a short stay at Catalina. They will be at home in Moreno Highlands after October 20.

Mrs. Reins is a graduate of John Muir Technical High School and Mr. Reins graduated from Pasadena Junior College.

The marriage of Mrs. Lina Guhl, of 516 East Glen Oaks avenue, Burbank, and Engelhard F. Barth, of 80 West Grand View avenue, was solemnized at a quiet ceremony in Los Angeles on Wednesday in the presence of a few close friends. Mrs. Barth has been the recipient of a number of showers in Burbank. Mr. and Mrs. Barth will make their home here.

Miss Lena Bercovitz and Joseph Zigler, of Los Angeles, were united in marriage on Tuesday by Judge Thomas Neale. The couple plan to make their home in Sierra Madre.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Elmore, of Pasadena, entertained their bridge club on Saturday evening in honor of their crystal wedding anniversary. Among the guests were Miss Clara Sykes, Miss Thyra Golden, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Laura Cline, of Sierra Madre.

The Modern Priscillas enjoyed a picnic at Griffith Park on Thursday, the event closing the meetings of the society for the season.

Miss Marian Daily, of 105 East Central avenue, entertained 40 guests at a Treasure Hunt on Tuesday evening. The last clue took them to the home of Milton Hollingsworth, where a dance was held in honor of Miss Frances Olds, who celebrated her 19th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Boiteaux, of Hermosa Beach, entertained with a dinner party on Sunday in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Stanley Decker, of the Wistaria Bake Shop.

Honoring her tenth birthday, Mary Rita Schiltz, of 67 East Highland avenue, entertained a group of her girl friends with a party on Monday afternoon. Table decorations were carried out in pink and the birthday cake was attractively frosted in white and pale green. At the party were Betty Thill, Mary Margaret Thill, Kathleen McLellan, Dora Verala, Sylvia Colbert, Loretta Delvecci, Priscilla Gourdau, Lucille Hoevel, Margery Bradley, Camilla Rosa, Mary Louise Grevillot, Jenny Rosa, Marie Bergien, Margaret Hoevel, Sheila Colbert and the honoree.

The first summer social of the Congregational League was held at the home of Miss Ruth Wheeling, 101 East Central avenue, on Monday. The young people made plans for the summer. They discussed ways to enlarge their Big Pines' camp fund and planned to have a meeting every other Tuesday night during the summer.

The group is to devote an hour in worship and discussions and spend the rest of the evening in entertainment provided by the hostesses for the evening. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Marjorie Ashmore, 477 North Baldwin avenue.

A family dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conners L. Twycross, 123 South Baldwin avenue, celebrated the 79th birthday of S. R. G. Twycross on Tuesday evening. Besides the guest of honor were the Twycross family and Mrs. Helen Hammond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Humphries, of 214 West Carter avenue, entertained with a birthday dinner party on Sunday in honor of Mr. Humphries' mother, Mrs. Catherine Humphries, of Los Angeles. Covers were laid for 16.

Mrs. George Quittner entertained a group of ladies at bridge on Friday evening at her home, 241 Ramona avenue, on the occasion of her birthday. Tall pink candles lighted the living room and bowls of pink roses and fern were artistically arranged throughout the house. Mrs. Victor Hill carried off first honors at bridge, while second prize was won by Mrs. Harry Woodruff. Another interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was a fortune teller's booth, presided over by Mrs. George Coble dressed in Oriental costume. Mrs. Coble read the palms of guests. At midnight supper was served, featuring a huge birthday cake, beautifully decorated.

Honoring the birthdays of Carl E. Keene and Miss Lois H. Knutson a family dinner party was given on Saturday evening by Mrs. Blanche Keene at her home, 46 East Highland avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keene and family, Jerry and Russell Keene and Miss Knutson were among the guests.

Seek Relief On Special Assessments

Government Asked To Assume Staggering Sum Laid Against Property

Federal relief for special assessment districts throughout the United States looms as a possibility for 1935 as a result of a conference in Washington, D.C., between President Roosevelt and Montaville Flowers, president of the Special Assessment Relief Association of California.

Flowers petitioned the President on behalf of 20,000 California property owners that he interest himself in a National program for lifting the debt, the cost and the loss from every person who is suffering from the heavy charges laid against his property to pay for public improvements.

In a telegram to the Los Angeles headquarters of the Special Assessment Relief Association, Flowers stated that shortly after his conference with the President copies of his proposed relief programs were ordered dispatched to the heads of two emergency administrations with instructions

Indian Play To Be Presented Sunday In Antelope Valley

The Antelope Valley Indian Play, "Crimson Arrow," which is presented annually at the open-air "Theatre of the Standing Rocks," 22 miles east of Lancaster, is ready for its third performance. The outdoor setting against the high cliffs of Piute Butte is superb and with the experience of the two previous years H. Arden Edwards, author of the play and its director, has developed magnificent lighting and color effects. The play will be given Sunday evening, July 1st, at 7:30 p.m.

Camping facilities at nominal cost will be available to visitors who wish to arrive Saturday evening. Roads will be posted to the play from all points into the Valley. Patrons are advised to bring a liberal supply of blankets and cushions.

JACK YOUNG GIVEN LEAD IN HOLLYWOOD SHOW

Jack Young, of Adams street, who is employed at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, was cast in the major role in a play presented on Wednesday night at the Hollywood Music Box.

that they be studied from every angle.

In a memorandum submitted to the President, Flowers pointed out that for the 12 months preceding July 1, 1932, property owners of the country paid $323,000,000 for special assessments.

"This gigantic sum is $5,000,000 more than the expenditures of the National government in 1890; it is $73,000,000 more than our customs receipts in 1933, and only $30,000,000 less than the total receipts from the federal income tax for the same year," Flowers stated.

New $1 Tax To Be Levied On Hunters

Federal Fee Will Be Exactd When Licenses Expire Tomorrow

With all hunting licenses expiring Saturday night, local sportsmen will find a new tax when they plan to hunt for ducks and geese. A federal stamp costing $1 must be placed on the 1934-35 hunting license before persons can hunt migratory birds. The regular hunting license costing $1 will permit a person to hunt quail and other birds and game.

The Sierra Madre postoffice will issue the federal hunting stamp after application has been filed with Postmaster Jessica H. Wright. The stamp will be pasted on the hunting license, being issued by the department of agriculture, bureau of biological survey.

Purpose of the federal stamp is to provide a fund to enable the government to buy back land that was once swamp. This land would be flooded and allowed to become a game refuge. The theory is that there is too much farming land now and not enough places for game birds. Reclaiming of the swamp land would bring back to its natural state hundreds of acres for game propagation.

Whether there will be much duck hunting in the southland has not yet been determined. The warm winter with very little snow did not provide the usual amount of swamp land for propagation. It will be up to the State fish and game commission to fix dates for the season.

The deer season opens in this district in August, dove season being September 1.

A Californian, Dr. John M. Brewer, of Cambridge, Mass., was elected President of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, at the recent annual meeting in Boston.

A marked increase in building permits in the unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County is only another evidence of greatly improved business conditions.

And another sign of the improvement. A letter to the Editor from the Ramona Pageant management at Hemet contains the good news that "the Pageant this year was a splendid financial success," credit in large measure being given to the newspaper advertising—the only method used by the Hemet organization.

Burglars in San Jose took a bath, baked a pumpkin pie, and leisurely ransacked the home of Charles Tingle, taking nearly everything movable.

The California Taxpayers' Association has petitioned the Los Angeles County Supervisors requesting that the total tax levy for general county purposes for the coming year not exceed the total for the present year. Pointing out that great numbers of property owners have been unable to pay their taxes and are in danger of losing their property, and that the ability of property owners in the county to pay taxes had greatly decreased during the past four years, the resolution called attention to the fact that the expenditures of the county government have exceeded revenues and have not decreased in proportion to the decrease in private income.

Questionnaires filled out by 9,000 women graduates of the University of California show that only 3300, or little over a third, are married. And it is noteworthy that those who marry do not rush into it. Only ten per cent of the college women marry before they are 25, while over fifty per cent take the leap between the ages of 26 and 36. Nearly half of the women graduates are still under thirty years of age.

Another interesting thing revealed by the questionnaire for the geographical directory, is that out of approximately 9000 women replying only ninety-five refused to give their age.

More than 20,000 kinds of fish are known to science and new specimens are discovered each year.

Registering an increase of 13 per cent over May, 1933, a total of 60,259 out-of-state motor tourists arrived in California last month, according to California Department of Agriculture figures resulting from an actual count at the border gateways. Since January 1 a total of 229,839 tourists have arrived by motor.

Thousands gathered at the little town of Beaurain, Belgium, recently to witness the appearance of the Virgin Mary, which was predicted to occur at 5:30 p.m. on a certain day in May. Of course, there was no such appearance, but many no doubt imagined they saw the expected apparition. Such is the power of superstition, even in the twentieth century.

"Your Own Home Bank"

We appreciate your business

By Henry Ivins Haverhurst

LET'S polish up our periscope and take a squint at this community as it was a year ago and compare it with that of today . . . this squint we are about to take has to do entirely with the changed conditions brought about by the Art League.

Before the Art League launched its frail craft of endeavor, more than a year ago, young or adult students, with an artistic yen, had no means of exploiting their talents outside of paid, private classes.

Since first opening its doors the "Old Barn" studio has welcomed more than a hundred students. Doubtless many joined the classes thinking it would be a lark—a place to have a good time, a place to idle away the time for two evenings a week. Many have come and many have gone since first the League classes began and many early discovered that the purpose of the League is a most serious one, this purpose being to give those so desiring, an opportunity to learn, along the lines of their choice. Slowly but surely the process of elimination has been working until today the Art League classes are comprised of a group who are taking their study in art seriously.

We have yodled a lot in the past, present—and will continue to do so in the future about the difficulties of running an embryonic institution of artistic learning without any visible means of support. We have begged, borrowed and done about everything but steal to keep the "Old Barn" classes from succumbing through financial malnutrition.

For more than a year the League has broadcast its slogan: "art as free as air" and whatever may be heard to the contrary this slogan will continue to be shouted from the housetops irrespective of the fact that beginning next Monday, July 2, a more systematic course of instruction will be adopted in the classes. They will be placed in two groups comprising those who have had little or no instruction and the other made up of those who have advanced beyond the beginners work.

Many in the latter group have enjoyed a full year's study made possible by the generosity of the instructors, who donated their services, plus the help given by several patrons who helped materially to keep the wolf from disturbing the artistic atmosphere of the "Old Barn" too much.

It is imperative now that the Art League must have some source of income to continue its existence. Therefore it has been decided to charge the students in the advanced class a small monthly sum to meet the charges for light, heat, etc., thereby making it possible to still maintain the "free as air" class for all those who desire to try out their artistic wings and gain a foundation of study which is paramount to any artistic success.

No doubt most of us would vote it a pleasing address if it was delivered in ten minutes, but the great trouble is the speakers all appear to think the audience is enjoying it as much as the speaker, which, of course, is not true.

ALL-AMERICAN FAVORITES
PICKED FOR HOME GARDENS

JUST as an "All American" football team is selected each year, so are All-American flower and vegetable novelties selected. A committee chosen from a large group of reliable plantmen is responsible for the balloting and consequent selections made.

From a wide range of choice material entered by renowned flower and vegetable seed growers, it is the problem of the committee to submit their final decisions on the novelties of each year.

The score among the tested varieties was very close for 1934, and as consequence every novelty will be well worth a plot in the home garden.

Outstanding among the 1934 novelties is the Larkspur Rosamond. In addition to scoring high place for beauty and adaptability to garden use, it also won a gold medal in the All American trials. Larkspur Rosamond is an annual variety with flowers of a pure rose color. Unlike any other annual Larkspur, it is of the double stock-flowered type.

Other attractive varieties of Larkspur which may be grown with Rosamond, because of their blending qualities, are La France, a beautiful salmon-pink, and Miss California, a rich deep pink on salmon ground. These varieties grow to a height of about three feet.

Another Larkspur is Blue Bell. This is of the Giant Imperial type, stock-flowered, and clear light-blue color.

For best results Larkspur seeds should be sown where the plants are to remain. The seeds germinate easily in cool soil and require only ordinary garden care to be grown successfully.

Other flower novelties include Calendula Chrysantha, Petunia Ping Gem, Aster Los Angeles, Marigold, Dwarf, Monarch strain.

velvety texture of blooms, this flower makes a most showy exhibit in the garden and is excellent for cutting.

The flowers are somewhat bell-shaped, beautifully veined in gold with a rich intermingling of colors, such as crimson and gold, brown and gold, light blue and gold, and many others.

They grow to a height of 2 1/2 to 3 feet, bearing a mass of flowers. The seeds of Salpiglossis should be sown where the plants are to bloom, for they resent transplanting, and after the plants are established they do not require much moisture, but prefer rather a dry soil. They like a sunny situation. Don't worry if they should seem a little slow getting started. With warm weather they will give a good account of themselves.

ORANGE GROWERS TO HOLD INSTITUTE

Citrus growers of Southern California will be given an opportunity to learn of the work being done at the University of California at Los Angeles where subtropical horticulture is being taught and some experimental research work on subtropicals is being conducted. The annual summer institute will be held on Saturday, June 30, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Features of the program will be talks by A. J. McFadden, Dr. L. D. Batchelor, Director of the College of Agriculture in Southern California, and Professor W. R. Hodgson, assistant director. There will also be a discussion entitled "A Chemical Picture of the Orange Tree," by Dr. S. H. Cameron, who has been conducting research work on the orange tree and who is developing some very valuable information on the subject.

U.C.L.A. may be reached by going west from Los Angeles to Westwood, turning north in the village of Westwood to the University Campus.

BETTER RETURNS FOR THE ORANGE GROWER

June orange shipments to date have been 9 per cent heavier than the average of the past five years, and the market is still in very satisfactory condition. T. H. Powell, general sales manager, California Fruit Growers Exchange, reported at the weekly meeting yesterday. Summarizing the past Navel season, Mr. Powell stated that the Exchange navel average was 31 cents ahead of 1933. Total orange shipments from all sources from January 1st to May 15th were 14 percent greater than in 1933, and Exchange f.o.b. returns were 20 percent greater. California shipped only 41 per cent of the total oranges during this period. The Exchange supplied 76 per cent of the California shipments and 30 per cent of the total.

New Proposal Wins
Attention

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Sec. Agricultural Legislative Committee of California

ONE of the greatest weaknesses of popular government, both in California and in the Nation at large, is, without doubt, the ancient but dangerous doctrine that "To the victors belong the spoils."

Not only has it fostered graft and political racketeering, but it has also bred and nurtured the political patronage system which has been a contributing factor to two of the primary evils of present-day government—inefficiency and extravagance.

Payroll-padding, designed to take care of the politically-faithful, regardless of merit or ability, has probably added more millions to the cost of government—and consequently piled more burdens on the harassed taxpayer—than any other factor.

In light of these conditions, the constitutional amendment to be submitted to California voters at the general election this year, seeking to create a non-partisan State Personnel Board and generally strengthen civil service, should have real interest for the taxpaying electorate.

Impartially considered—and judged mainly from the standpoint of what it will contribute toward better government and as a check-rein on mounting payrolls—the civil service amendment—even in view of some of the admitted weaknesses of civil service itself, apparently has much to recommend it.

The act provides at the outset that appointments and promotions in the State service, except for a small group, specifically exempted, shall be based exclusively on "merit, efficiency and fitness as ascertained by competitive examination."

The major objection which can be raised to the act—and it is a sound objection in many instances—is that the inefficient employee is frequently protected and kept in office by civil service. The State Legislature, if the act is approved by the voters, can and should meet this objection, however, by providing reasons and causes for dismissal which will facilitate getting rid of the unfit.

Although Australia is almost as large as the United States, it has less population than New York City.

Crop Loans Boon To
Avocado Growers

Southern California calavo and avocado growers, now facing a 300-500 percent crop increase for next season, will find welcome crop loan assistance now from Uncle Sam himself, through the Production Credit Corporation agencies located in each county.

Federal PCC crop loans will enable qualifying avocado growers to secure funds for fertilizers and other materials necessary to produce quality fruit next season. Interest rates on the loans will be extremely low. Crop loans are being made available so that the growers will no longer be compelled to market their fruit through the private produce firms that advance them fertilizers or crop loans.

Our Flag—What It
Stands For; How It Should Be Treated

International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace. The flag of our country is placed at the observance of the left of the flags of other nations, that is, it is placed at the beginning of a line of reading. When displayed in the body of a church, the flag should be upon a staff placed in the position of honor at the right of the congregation as they face the clergyman. If in the church, or on the platform, the flag is placed as he faces the congregation.

The flag may not be draped or festooned. When displayed apart from a staff, it must be flat, whether indoors or out. Against a wall, either horizontally or vertically, the union is placed uppermost and to the observer's left. When displayed in a window the union must be to the left of the observer in the street. As this is opposite for those who may be in the room, it no doubt accounts for some of our confusion of ideas as to the proper position of the flag. When displayed over the middle of the street, the flag should be suspended vertically, with the union to the North or East. The flag must never be draped across the front of a platform, or used to cover a speaker's desk. Bunting should be used for all these purposes, with the blue at the top and the red below.

The flag of the United States of America must never be worn as part of any costume or uniform. It should never be used as a decoration on table-linen, pillow tops, cushions or handkerchiefs, neither printed or painted, nor embroidered on such articles. No object or emblem should be placed on or above the flag of the Republic. It is correctly displayed from an automobile when it is flown from a staff at the radiator cap. It should never be draped on a car.

The flag should be displayed on all days of patriotic observance, and on the occasion of visits from high government officials. Schools and other public buildings should display it every day.

These and a few other rules governing special occasions, were compiled in an effort to obtain, throughout this vast domain, a uniform method of expressing the reverence and respect we owe to the emblem representing our country. It is not the flag of a ruling family or royal line, but of a Nation, one and inseparable, of a hundred million free people; a Nation whose citizens recognize their duties and privileges, their obligations as well as their rights. The flag of the United States of America is unique in the message it bears to the entire world, a message of idealism, patriotism, individual liberty and National independence. It embodies the spirit of Freedom, not liberty of license, but freedom attained through obedience to self-imposed laws. It speaks of righteousness and justice, and an equal opportunity to all for life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, within the bounds of duty and obedience. The number of people who owe allegiance to this flag, has increased from three millions in 1777, to one hundred and thirty millions today, and the territory over which it flies has increased from 13 states along the Atlantic seaboard, to 48 states reaching across the continent, and great islands in two oceans. It has been brought to this proud position by the patriotism of citizens who have advanced it, and the love and sacrifice of heroes who died for it. It is the Flag of us all alike. To it we pledge allegiance and accord it honor and loyalty.

Icemen Beat Legion Cops Kiwanians In 12 Innings By 14 Errors

But Team Comes Back To Take 16-2 Victory Over Los Angeles Team

Dropping an exciting 2 to 1 game to the Sierra Madre Icemen, in 12 innings last Thursday night, the local Kiwanians came back on Tuesday to shatter the Los Angeles Chase and Sanborns 16 to 2.

They outbatted the Icemen in the first engagement but some of the six errors chalked up against Kiwanians came at critical periods and directly accounted for the defeat. Ed LaLone allowed but six hits, well scattered, and fanned 17 batters—good enough to win most any old ball game with reasonable support.

There was nothing that looked like a score until the fourth inning when Marsh hit for the circuit to put Kiwanians out front. In the fifth Dykes of the Icemen rapped out a two bagger and scored when the ball got away from Fred LaLone, tying up the score.

Smart baseball by the Icemen prevented Kiwanians from ending the game in the ninth. With a walk and two two-baggers Kiwanians was unable to get the winning run across.

The Icemen pushed the winning run over in the twelfth without a hit. A pass and two errors did the trick. The score:

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys
THE only fire call of last week caused very little damage, but was in a place that had not been overcome in time would have been hard to fight. Frank Lovell must have dropped wrenches and pliers all over his garage floor, because he had the Pierce Arrow truck rolling down Central avenue before the siren had gained its full blast. Due to "Shorty" Steinberger being two seconds too late, he was not seen on his usual throne at the wheel of the big truck. He was in time, though, to occupy the opposite side of the seat.

The Chief vowed he was going to set an example by cutting down on the "feeds," so as it was his turn last Friday, his wife sent down enough of the best potato salad I ever ate to feed 40 men, and then to keep the boys

FIGHT PICTURES AT THE LYRIC THEATRE

Carole Lombard in "20th Century"

On the same program with Carole Lombard and John Barrymore, in "20th Century," next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the Lyric Theatre, in Monrovia, has also secured the real authentic pictures of the Baer-Carnera fight. The pictures are exceptionally clear and afford the theatre patron an opportunity to see each blow struck, just as plainly as if he had a ringside seat.

from foundering, she also sent 100 sandwiches, three home made cakes, pickles, cheese, ham, lamb, and pies. The only thing she left out was vegetable soup.

As was mentioned last week, when the firemen have only one or two visitors (which we welcome as guests) the present room is badly crowded. Had the arguments formed into fistfuffs, there would have not been room for swinging, and the visitors might have suffered accidentally. Any impression that readers may get from these reports of the firemen's meeting that indicate rudeness and roughness, may well be taken with a grain of salt, for the condition of the furniture in the room after so many years of continuous usage, proves that the men are not so rough after all. Much could be done to make another room pleasant. Many times firemen from other districts visit us and show surprise at the smallness of the "quarters," after hearing so much about the "best volunteer fire department in the State." (These are George Norris' words.) Those who must burn weeds and brush from their premises should consult the Fire Chief or the forest patrolmen before starting. The fire hazard is too great to permit of carelessness or the taking of chances. Never, never go to bed at night with a smoldering fire in your back yard. You make wake up in the midst of a cloud of smoke or in a firemen's arms. "Fire Out."

Sensational Acts Are Added To Pasadena's Fourth Of July Show

New and sensational acts have been added to the tenth annual circus and fireworks display of the Pasadena Fire Department to be presented at the Pasadena Rose Bowl on the Fourth of July. A three ring circus will hold the interest of both parents and children before the fireworks display, which the firemen are planning as one of the biggest and most thrilling ever held in the West.

This annual presentation affords the people of the community the best in fireworks and a safe and sane Fourth. Tickets are on sale at the Sierra Madre Fire Department and can be secured by phoning 51, or at the Central Fire Station, Holly and Broadway, Pasadena.

Injured Boy Hunter Amazes Surgeons By Quick Recovery

Phillip O'Brien, the 14-year old boy who was accidentally shot by his companion, Louis LaLonde, of Pasadena, while they were hunting rabbits in Eaton Canyon, above the Hastings ranch, amazed the doctors in Pasadena hospital by making a quick recovery. Shot through the pancreas gland, the .22-calibre bullet passed twice through the stomach wall and the boy was believed at first to be fatally hurt. After a week in the hospital he was pronounced out of danger.

Young O'Brien's remarkable comeback is explained medically by the fact that the puncture of the pancreas released powerful digestive fluids that added curative action. No action was taken against LaLonde. He was carrying the rifle under his arm when it was discharged. There was no doubt about it being an accident. He carried the injured boy down to Madre street and summoned aid.
